PRICE FIVE CENTS

MAY NEED SPECIAL SESSION TO HALT INFLATION

ELLIS ARNALL IS EXPECTED TO QUIT TODAY

Washington P—Ellis Arnall, who may resign today as price stabilizer, predicts "constant and steady" price rises in the months ahead and says a special session of Congress may have to be called to halt inflation.

Arnall has a date today with President Truman during which he plans to discuss his resignation as head of the Office of Price Stabilization and other things.

The former Georgia governor was particularly gloomy over prospects of sharp increases in food prices.

He said in a television newscast last night that food costs rose more rapidly last month than in any comparable period in the nation's history, and further increases are in sight because of the widespread drought, "an inadequate price control law" and other factors.

"If things get out of hand it may be necessary for Congress to reassemble and to give this agency OPS power to do the job for you," he said.

FOOD PRICES CLIMB TO HIGHEST IN 1952

New York P—Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dunn & Bradstreet food index, climbed to a new high this week.

At $6.65 the index compared with $6.53 last week and $6.95 a year ago. The previous high this year was $6.64 on Jan. 1. The low: $6.31 on April 22.

The record high for this index is $7.36, on July 13, 1948. The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

This week's rise was attributed largely to sharply higher prices for feed crops as a result of drought conditions in growing areas.

LOBLAW'S ACQUIRES 4TH AVENUE PROPERTY

According to a real estate transfer on record at the office of the register and recorder at the courthouse the property at 310 Fourth avenue west has been sold by Peter and Sadie Marco to Lawrence J. Schork, an attorney from Buffalo, N. Y., who is a legal representative for Loblaw Groceries, Inc.

Acquisition of this property by interests connected with Loblaw's along with two others previously acquired, gives the chain store company possession of a frontage on the north side of Fourth avenue, between Liberty and Hickory streets of 175 feet with a depth of 253 feet.

INTERPRETERS CHECK ITEMS IN ARMISTICE

Munsan, Korea P—United Nations interpreters checked over English, Chinese and Korean texts of the Korean armistice draft today to make sure they all say the same thing.

Communist interpreters are making the same study.

Working on the draft in the three languages has been agreed on by staff officers of both sides.

Pennsylvania Draft Board Doesn't Need Fathers at Present

Harrisburg P—Pennsylvania's draft-age fathers can rest relatively free from induction fears for at least the next three to six months, the State Selective Service Headquarters indicated today.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national draft boss, said in Washington last week that men deferred because of dependents may be "resurveyed" because of the shrinking manpower pool.

"We have a pool of about 8,500 men who have been examined and accepted," said Lt. Col. Frank J. Graf, deputy State Selective Service director. "We are now drawing from the group born in 1930 and 1931."

Pennsylvania's draft quota for August is 1,398 men and for September, 763.

Graf said: "At this rate we should have no trouble for the next three to six months. However, I read reports in the newspapers that the quotas will be greatly increased later in the year."

No Hint of Atomic Bombings As Clark's Command Starts Campaign to Speed Armistice

B-29 CRASHES NEAR YAKOTA BASE, TOKYO

Tokyo P—A bomb-laden B-29 Superfort, bound for North Korea, crashed and burned tonight four minutes after it took off from Yokota Air Base west of Tokyo.

Far East air forces headquarters said nine crewmen made low-altitude parachute leaps before the crash but the pilot and two other crew members were missing.

Kyodo News Agency quoted Japanese police that the three missing men had died in the crash.

The pilot released the bombs with fuses inactivated before the impact. Police said one exploded in some unexplained manner and slightly injured an elderly Japanese man.

Three Japanese firemen were burned slightly while fighting the oil and gasoline fire at the wreckage.

PENNSYLVANIA FORBIDS SWINE IMPORTATIONS

Harrisburg P—The importation of all swine, except those intended for immediate slaughter, has been banned in Pennsylvania.

The State Agricultural Department took the action yesterday as a precaution against a new livestock illness that already has appeared in 20 other states.

Secretary Miles Horst identified the disease as vesicular exanthema. He said it has been discovered in four counties in neighboring New Jersey and one each in New York and Ohio.

PACIFIC SECURITY IS MINISTERS' PROBLEM

Honolulu P—Foreign ministers of Australia, New Zealand and the U. S. today headed into talks on formation of a military staff for the ANZUS Mutual Defense Pact.

One other item remains on the agenda of the ministers' closed session—relations of the ANZUS nations with other nations and regional associations in the Pacific.

The conference was due to end today.

A spokesman said a discussion of Pacific security problems that began yesterday would continue this morning.

JOHNSTOWN DAILIES ANNOUNCE MERGER

Johnstown, Pa. P—The Morning Johnstown Democrat and the Evening Johnstown Tribune will combine Sept. 8 into an all-day newspaper in an economy move.

Publisher Walter W. Krebs said the new paper, the Johnstown Tribune-Democrat, will cover both the afternoon and morning fields. Three daily editions are planned. Krebs said "rising wages and newspaper costs and everything else that goes into the production of a newspaper" makes the merger necessary.

BIG INCREASE IN PENELEC'S INCOME

Johnstown, Pa. P—Net income for the Pennsylvania Electric Co. jumped nearly $600,000 during the first six months of 1952.

The company said today net income for the first six months of 1952 was $3,829,479 compared to $3,351,366 for the same period a year ago. Net sales reached $24,914,769, compared to $23,304,427 for the first six months of 1951.

AGRICULTURE OFFICER DIES IN POTTSVILLE

Pottsville, Pa. P—Guy S. Reed, president of the Schuylkill County Agriculture and Home Economics service, died yesterday. He was 57.

One of the state's leading farmers, Reed was director of his county's Dairy Herd Improvement Association. He was given the title "Master Farmer" by the Pennsylvania Grange in 1950.

Washington P—The United Nations Command has embarked on a systematic bombing campaign deliberately calculated to destroy the enemy's will to hold out against an armistice in Korea.

Military officials here placed this interpretation on the Tokyo announcement that military targets in 78 North Korean population centers have been selected for destruction, after civilians have been warned by radio and leaflets that bombs are coming their way.

The psychological warfare section of Gen. Mark Clark's U. N. Command borrowed a leaf from World War II history in stressing the warning phase. The most notable precedent for telling enemy civilians that their cities were earmarked for obliteration was established in the final, atomic bomb chapter of the war against Japan.

Gen. Clark's disclosure of the scheduled effort to smash North Korea's will and ability to continue resistance held no hint, however, of atomic bombings or the kind of mass destruction raids that were launched against German and Japanese cities during the last war.

The U. N. Command and more than 2½ million leaflets have told North Korean civilians that the Allied air forces "must destroy all Communist military supplies and installations—and it knows where they are."

COURSE IN WORLD PEACE IS PROPOSED

State College, Pa. P—A one-year college course to promote world peace is proposed by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College.

Speaking to the Penn State Institute on World Affairs and International Understanding yesterday, Dr. Eisenhower suggested the course for college seniors.

He said such a course would give college graduates "the basis for judging all new proposals for international action with greater certainty of wise decisions."

TWO KILLED WHEN TEST PLANE FALLS

San Diego, Calif. P—A B36 bomber, coming in for a landing after a test flight, caught fire and plunged into the ocean carrying two of its crew members to death. Six others aboard were rescued.

All of the crew were employees of Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp., which was modernizing the plane. Convair said the two lost were D. H. Franks, the pilot, and W. W. Hoffman, first flight engineer, both of San Diego.

RHEE HAS LEAD IN KOREAN ELECTION

Pusan, Korea P—President Syngman Rhee today piled up a 2½ to 1 lead over three opponents in unofficial returns from nearly half the voting places in Tuesday's first direct presidential election in South Korea.

Latest returns gave Rhee 2,409,714 of about 3½ million votes counted.

Overseer of the Pennsylvania State Grange To Address Quarterly Session in Tidououte

Pennsylvania Needs Rain Desperately, Some Relief Felt

Harrisburg P—Two-thirds of Pennsylvania is desperately in need of rain despite some relief brought by this week's showers, the State Agriculture Department said today.

A federal-state weather and crop survey released by the department showed that potatoes, corn and oats suffered greatly during the last seven days in central and western parts of the state.

Throughout the entire commonwealth, rainfall for the week was only two-thirds normal. Some pastures in Eastern Pennsylvania were reported improving but elsewhere they still are brown.

The report said that during that period harvesting of hay and grain advanced and some fall plowing was done. Hail damaged some corn and tobacco in the Lancaster area, although topping of tobacco there now is common.

Duchess apples and Golden Jubilee peaches now are being marketed, the report said, adding that grapes in the Erie belt are small.

Yields of early potatoes in most sections are light but where moisture is adequate late varieties are doing well. Vine growth is below normal and, due to alternate dry and wet spells, a few stands are blooming for the third time.

BLOOMSBURG HOSPITAL HAS FIRST TRIPLETS

Bloomsburg, Pa. P—The first set of triplets delivered in the history of the Bloomsburg hospital are adjusting to life today, unaware of their historical significance.

The triplets, all girls, were born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Young, of Fishing Creek Township, near Bloomsburg. Young, a veteran of World War II and the Korean War, is a carpet worker in Bloomsburg.

Attending physician, Dr. D. Ernest Witt, said it was the first case of triplets in the records of Bloomsburg hospital.

The Youngs have two other children.

Harrisburg P—The Public Utility Commission has set Aug. 27 and 28 for the next set of hearings on the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania's proposed 32 million dollar a year rate increase.

Bell asked that the increase go into effect last March 7 but the PUC suspended it for six months to Sept. 7, pending an investigation.

Merle Porter, worthy overseer of the Pennsylvania State Grange, will be principal guest speaker for the third quarterly session of Warren County Pomona Grange No. 10, convening at 10.00 a. m. Thursday at Tidououte.

Mountain Grange at Tidououte will be host for the gathering and women of that organization will serve both dinner and supper.

Worthy Master Fred Simones, of Warren, will be in the chair, opening the session in the Fifth Degree. R. N. Summerton, of Mountain Grange, will extend the welcome and Mabel Kean, of East Branch, will voice the response.

The home economics program at 11:00 a. m. will be in charge of Mrs. Elsie Hollabaugh, Pomona home economics chairman.

Devotions opening the afternoon session, at 1:30 p. m., will be conducted by Rev. H. M. Stevenson, Tidououte.

The afternoon literary program will get under way at 2:00 o'clock and will consist of selections from the programs presented during the current year's subordinate visits with Pomona's Fruit Basket. Overseer Porter's address will be given at this time, also.

In the evening, the session will be devoted to business and the seating drill contest, with cash awards. Each subordinate Grange is urged by Pomona Lecturer William M. Brooks to participate in this portion of the day's activities.

Concluding the all-day program, officers will confer the Fifth Degree of the Order of Patrons of Husbandry.

Mysterious Objects Detected by Radar Above the Capital

Washington P—Radar screens showed signs of mystery objects flitting slowly through rain-swept, pitch-dark skies over the nation's capital last night and early today.

The Washington Post said one official called it "a veritable fleet."

It also quoted an experienced radar operator as saying "this is the most puzzling phenomenon we have ever observed. We have definitely not been seeing spots before our eyes."

But again, the Air Force—assigned to look into all "flying saucer" reports—seemed to write off any theory of strange nocturnal visitors.

An Air Force spokesman at the Pentagon noted that the radar sightings—tiny blips on a fluorescent screen—started just about the time a thunderstorm hit the Washington area with heavy rain.

Two jet fighters were sent up from New Castle, Del., shortly after midnight, but pilots saw nothing unusual.

Andrews Field spokesman said two unidentified objects showed on the field's radar screen at 10:20 p. m., moving slowly from Washington to Mt. Vernon, George Washington's home.

A few minutes later two more images appeared on the screen, four to six miles east of the field, which is about seven miles southeast of Washington. These objects appeared to move slowly, then stop, then fly away.

A similar image appeared shortly after midnight.

ERIE NEWSPAPER IS CRIPPLED BY STRIKE

Erie, Pa. P—Editorial employees of the Erie Dispatch, one of two daily newspapers in this city of 150,000 went on strike today.

A statement issued by the Dispatch Unit of the Erie Newspaper Guild said the strike was called to protest "the mass firing last week of nine workers."

There was no comment immediately available from management.

The paper missed its first edition, due on the streets at 9 a. m., when AFL Printers and Pressmen refused to cross the picket line set up by CIO Guildsmen.

The guild statement said "W. Howard Parsons, newly appointed assistant to Publisher Edward Lamb, discharged the nine employees between July 28 and Aug. 2."

The guild said the strike followed a 68 to 2 vote in favor of the walkout. A meeting is scheduled between guildsmen and Lamb.

Barbara Will Take Her Fifth Husband

San Francisco P—Barbara Hutton, oft-wedded heiress to the Woolworth millions, left last night for Honolulu. There, said the San Francisco Examiner, she will marry British-born socialite David Pleydell-Bouverie.

The Examiner reported Barbara's friends said Pleydell-Bouverie, 41, accompanied the 39-year-old four-times wedded heiress. Pan American Airways refused to say whether he was aboard. Its employees prevented reporters from seeing the group at the airport.

6 RED PLANES SHOT DOWN BY SABRE PILOTS

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Seoul, Korea P—Sharp-shooting U. S. Sabrejet pilots today shot down six Communist MIG 15s and damaged three in the third straight day of jet battles high over North Korea, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

The Air Force said its three-day bag of the sweeping Red fighters totals 11 destroyed and 14 damaged.

Today's seven swirling dogfights got so hot that a Communist pilot helped shoot down one of his own comrades.

The MIG flier was firing at Capt. William J. Ryan, Keeseville, N. Y., who was firing at another MIG ahead. Ryan swerved his plane. The pursuing MIG's 20 mm. cannon fire tore into the Russian-made jet ahead, blowing it up and finishing the job Ryan started.

It was Ryan's second kill of the day.

Eighty-two MIGs were spotted. Shots were exchanged in seven separate engagements but Sabre pilots reported they scored hits in only four of the duels.

Fighter-bombers swarmed over North Korean targets in bright weather.

By noon today, the Fifth Air Force said, Allied planes had destroyed four enemy boxcars and damaged eight, smashed four road bridges and one rail bridge and knocked out seven mortar positions.

On the ground, troops sweltered in 100 degree temperature. Fighting was generally light.

On the Central Front Allied troops counterattacked after dawn and pushed the Reds off an outpost the Communists won last night.

Across the front, Communist artillery fired 4,458 rounds in a 24 hour period ending last night.

TRUCK BLOWS UP, TOWN IS DAMAGED

Mahanoy City, Pa. P—A dynamite-laden truck blew up in the tiny community of Craigs near here yesterday, ravaging the entire town and injuring nine persons.

The deafening explosion was felt for miles around. It shattered store windows here, four miles from the blast.

Ten homes in Craigs—the entire town—were damaged. The 50 residents of the hamlet were thrown into a complete confusion.

PRICE OF ALUMINUM INCREASED TODAY

Washington P—Aluminum producers today won a ceiling price increase of one cent per pound on raw aluminum and five per cent on ingot and fabricated products.

The Office of Price Stabilization said Price Control Chief Ellis Arnall had signed the order granting the boost and the details would be made public shortly.

The increase is about half of that asked by the aluminum industry which now is turning out about one million tons of aluminum a year.

BIG CONTRACT

Pittsburgh P—Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced today it has been awarded a defense contract for 10½ trillion dollars worth of aircraft generators. The generators will be made at the firm's Lima, O., plant.

SLIGHT DROP IN STUDENTS' ENROLLMENT

Only one month hence and approximately 3200 young boys and girls will bid farewell to summer vacation and will be joyfully tripping into the classroom once more, for Wednesday, September 3, is "back to school" day. To young people attending Warren Borough schools today's Times-Mirror is dedicated in the form of a Back to School edition.

In addition to the routine painting, cleaning, etc., repairs have been completed at three buildings. At Home Street the old part of the building has been re-roofed, the corner stone of McClintock was removed and copper flashing put under it to prevent leaking, and the outside of the Beatty building has been painted.

With 89 actual school days, the first semester will run through Friday, January 23, with several days' vacation, however, for holidays, meetings, etc. On September 19, County Institute will close the schools for one day and the Pennsylvania Education Association for one day on October 20.

Thanksgiving vacation takes in November 27 and 28 and the Christmas layoff commences at the close of the day, December 19, resuming on January 5.

During the second semester, which starts January 26 and includes 91 days of schooling, there will be only Easter vacation, beginning after the last class on April 1 until April 7. The last day of the school year will be June 4.

According to school officials the enrollment in the elementary buildings this coming school year should number about 1529 with 53 teachers. East Street is estimated to have 279 pupils; Home Street, 242; Lacy, 356; McClintock, 199; Seneca, 41; and South Street 412. Estimated enrollment at Beatty Junior High School is 845, and Warren High School, 880.

These figures total 3254, 27 pupils less than last year, 121 more than the 1951 term, and 165 over the 1950 number.

In preparing for the school opening next month, Carl E. Whipple, superintendent of schools, and Gerald Newton, director of instruction and curriculum, have been busy during the summer period seeing that necessary repairs are being made to the respective buildings and redecorating done where necessary.

urned - Out Cole ill Family Now iving in Garage

Cole Hill.—The house and home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eastman is destroyed completely by fire today afternoon about 5 o'clock. Mrs. Agnes Franks first discovered the fire when she noticed smoke coming from the roof of the house and gave the alarm to the entire family who in turn notified the Youngsville fire department.

Little hope of saving the building at the beginning as the fire gained rapidly before help arrived. A kitchen table set, washing machine and refrigerator was the only things that could be saved. Cause of the fire is unknown. The family had been away since 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eastman are living in their garage with their three small children until a new house can be built on the same foundation.

Mr. Eastman states the house was partly covered by insurance. Any things will be hard to replace. Some things were trophies from World War II, as he was a veteran with six years service, having been in Japan.

Only two years ago in May Frank's barn burned, next door neighbor. In the last half century in houses and six barns have burned on Cole Hill.

Rev. and Mrs. Leslie Frank and son, Leroy, of Minnesota, former missionary of this section, stopped on their way to Philadelphia, Friday.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

August 5, 1952

Starbuck, Pa.

Dear Editor:

I wish the patrons of the Drive-In Theatre at Starbuck, would take some morning after a big crowd has seen a movie the evening before, and take a slow ride or a walk through our community and view all the refuse they throw from their cars onto our lawns and around our properties. Every morning we can spend the better part of an hour just picking up the trash strewn over our properties which include: popcorn boxes, candy wrappers, paper napkins, hot-dog wrappers, gum wrappers, cigarette papers, newspapers. We do not wish to give the impression that all the refuse comes from the Drive-In. Garbage of every sort and description is dumped on our properties along the highway, and much of it is carted to that place from Warren and other communities in the county.

We, of Starbuck, like and enjoy the Drive-In Theatre and think it is of benefit to our community, but this does not mean that the patrons have to show their appreciation in this manner. We are all proud of our homes and put in a great deal of money, time and hard work in keeping up our lawns and landscaping, and to wake up in the morning and look out on a lawn full of garbage and rubbish is enough to make your blood boil. If this entire disregard and ignorant lack of good citizenship continues, we are quite sure that, for one, and I think I can speak for the whole of Starbuck, will continue to fight and speak for what is downright unthoughtful and untidy for the citizens of Warren to bestow on us, the Small Community of Starbuck.

Believing that a Sunday and Holiday collection from boxes in the residential districts should be of considerable convenience, arrangements are now under way to inaugurate such a collection next Sunday, August 10th. Schedules are being re-lettered to indicate time of collection for each box, ranging from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m., depending on location, each Sunday and holiday. This collection will be continued, of course, only if justified by volume of mail collected.

Perhaps you have already missed the clatter of our old cancelling machine which sometimes made conversation difficult at the windows. A new, much quieter, machine has been in operation about a week. The old machine had been in use here since 1927 and had cancelled something like 250 billion letters and cards in that time. That's a quarter of a billion and, incidentally, gives you some idea of the enormity of a billion—of anything.

We said "goodbye and good luck" to Marshall "Fats" Hansen last Wednesday in a brief ceremonial meeting just before he started his last trip as a city carrier. He's now retired after 29 years of pavement pounding, and he and Mrs. Hansen are settling

"GET-OUT-THE-VOTE" CAMPAIGN

An outfit called The American Heritage Foundation comes along with an old idea which looks good and some new figures which look bad.

The old idea is that people lucky enough to live in a country where they can vote should do it.

The new figures—new to us, at least—are comparisons of the number of people who vote here and in other countries, and the figures make us look pretty bad.

In 1948, for instance, only 51 per cent of the people in this country eligible to vote did so. But in 1948 in Italy 89 per cent of the eligibles voted.

In England last year the figure was 83 per cent. The year before in Belgium it was 90 per cent. In Canada, 75 per cent of the eligibles voted in 1949. In Sweden last year it was 80 per cent.

Furthermore, our voting record has been getting worse for about the last three-quarters of a century. In 1880, for instance, 78.4 per cent of the eligibles in this country voted. It had dropped to 73.5 per cent in 1900. When women voted for the first time in 1920 it dropped to what must have been an all-time low of 49.3 per cent.

Of the approximately 95 million persons eligible to vote in the United States in 1948, only about 60 million even bothered to register. And 48,680,416 actually went to the polls.

What accounts for this poor performance? The Foundation lists what it believes are the reasons. For one thing, too many people think their "one little old vote" can't make any difference one way or the other.

Some are hopeless, because they think things are so bad, and others are indifferent because they feel things are going well enough.

Some don't vote because they're confused by too many complex issues.

Others are uninterested because they believe the issues aren't sharply enough defined.

Still others are too busy with daily affairs that seem more important than voting.

The Foundation is out to lick these things, and it seems off to a good start. It has some 50 non-partisan organizations enrolled in a get-out-the-vote campaign for November, and it hopes to get others.

The present ones include the American Legion, the Daughters of the American Revolution, Jewish War Veterans, U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis International, and National Retail Dry Goods Association.

On its board of trustees, as officers and members are such men as Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the board of the Chase National Bank; William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Edward L. Ryerson, chairman of the board of Inland Steel, and Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The Heritage Foundation has an elaborate and detailed program all set to get rolling, and it has no axe to grind except to get out the biggest vote possible. You can't find much quarrel with an outfit that says, "We don't care which way you vote, just so you get out and vote."

As a matter of fact, that strikes us as a pretty fair-minded and public-spirited approach.

On this, the seventh anniversary of the dropping of the first atomic bomb ever used in war, August 6, 1945, on Hiroshima, Japan, it is interesting to review statistics concerning devastation and casualties inflicted. The population of the city was 343,969; number dead, 78,150; injured, 37,425; missing, 13,083. The second bomb was dropped on Nagasaki (population 252,630, August 9, 1945, when 73,884 were killed. It will be remembered that Japan surrendered August 14, 1945, the formal surrender being aboard the U. S. S. Missouri, September 2, 1945 (Far Eastern Time) called V-J Day.

This "Back-To-School" edition of the Times-Mirror, should serve as a reminder to parents of children who will be returning to classes next month, that it is not too early to be looking after their material and physical needs. Schools in the borough will open for the fall and winter term Wednesday, September 3.

People whose aim is good in this world will miss fire in the next.

The house of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eastman, Cole Hill, which was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon, was one of the first frame dwellings built of pine lumber in that section nearly a century ago, having three wing-style, modernized with up-to-date bath rooms, running water and electricity, originally built by Norton Camp, great grandfather of Howard Eastman to replace a log cabin house first erected in that pioneer settlement.

Parties Bid for Farmers' Vote Knowing It Can Swing Election

BY PETER EDSOIN
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The fight for the farm vote in the November presidential elections is again crucial.

It has been a general assumption that it was the farm vote opposition to Republican farm policies of 1948 which gave Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, and Ohio to the Democrats, and so enabled President Truman to win the election four years ago.

After the Chicago conventions in July, a number of farm-state newspaper editors at attendance expressed some fears that "The Republicans may have done it again."

They meant that the Republican platform did not offer the farmers a program as much to their liking as the Democratic platform.

Farm planks in the Republican platform are expressed in 12 paragraphs, in the Democratic platform 18. Three paragraphs in the Republican platform criticize the Democratic farm record.

The general charge of the Republicans is that the Democratic administration has been "seeking to destroy the farmers' freedom." The Democratic platform answer is that under these programs the farmers' annual income has been raised from $2 billion to $15 billion.

ON the question of price supports for perishable farm crops, which is the essence of the Brannan plan, the Democratic platform says, "We continue to advocate . . . extending price supports to other staples (crops) and to . . . perishable commodities which account for three-fourths of all farm income."

The Republican platform plank on perishable commodities says, " . . . we recommend locally controlled marketing agreements and other voluntary methods."

On price supports for non-perishable crops, the Republican platform favors "a farm program aimed at full parity prices for all farm products in the market place." The Democratic platform says, " . . . we will continue to protect the producers of basic agricultural commodities under the terms of a mandatory price-support program at not less than 90 per cent of parity."

The Republican platform defends the flexible price-support plan initiated by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress in 1948. The Democratic platform specifically condemns it.

The Democratic platform calls for "on-the-farm" crop storage. The Democratic platform calls for "adequate storage facilities . . . for needed reserves for defense and other emergency requirements, in order to protect the integrity of the farm price-support programs."

It was on this crop storage issue that the Republicans stubbed their toes in 1948. Their 1952 platform shows no change in view.

THE Republican platform mentions only in passing the need for "sufficient farm credit." The Democratic platform devotes a full paragraph to this subject, calling for continued and expanded farm credit for young men, veterans, tenants and low-income farmers, to assist them in becoming farm owners.

Both platforms pledge support to farmer cooperatives. The Democrats go farther in a promise of "protection from punitive taxation." The Republican platform urges "further development of rural electrification and communication with federally assisted power . . . when not available through private enterprise at fair rates."

The Democratic platform takes credit for having developed the rural electrification program and calls for its expansion to every farm home without the GOP private power restriction.

Both platforms call about equally for expanded soil conservation programs, agricultural research and education, development of new domestic and foreign farm markets, flood prevention and the decentralized, local administration of all farm programs.

There was an awful rumpus and threats of a suit for damages in the hotel last night. A vacuum cleaner salesman put on a demonstration on an old rag rug that had been on the floor for years. It started unraveling and just disappeared into the vacuum bag.

Everybody gets tied up sometimes. What a comfort it is that we can tell our families when it happens! Think of all the worries a voice over the telephone can prevent—and think of all the pleasure that words over wires can bring.

Why can we all take the telephone so much for granted? It comes down to people—the thousands of skilled, dependable men and women who make telephones work. They're on the job around the clock—and they're as important to community welfare as the policeman at the busy corner, or the mailman on his route.

HELL'S HORSEMAN
BY WILLIAM HOPSON

Chapter 23

SOMETHING like a cold sigh broke from his throat and the terror of what had happened only then hit him fully. He sat down weakly and swallowed hard too shaken to move for a moment.

He got up again and moved forward toward the house, silent on wet moss-casied feet. He knew the place well, from his previous visit. Outside of the door through which rugged old Ben Carson had packed him that evening so many months before, he paused. He tried to listen, but the voices that came through the thick bullet-proof walls were merely a muffled jumble. Montana left it and began to circle around the building. He came to a shed-like affair, more of a lean-to built onto the south side of the former station. It had been a storeroom. The door gave with a barely audible squeak and he was inside with it closed again, standing in pitch-black darkness.

He became aware that he was not alone and without further ado dropped to his haunches to get out of line of possible fire from any of Black Jack's riders who might be sleeping in there. A heavy Colt was in his right hand. Then he heard heavy, labored breathing.

Then a man's voice: "Who's there?"

Carson!

"Quiet, Ben," Montana whispered. "It's Thornton."

"Thank God, boy, you're come. Over here in the corner. I'm tied fast. Get my... hands loose, will you, Brand? Circulation is about gone. I was about to starve."

Jack is a devil, but watch out for Buckner. He's bad, that scum."

"I know," Montana said, working swiftly.

"Can you walk?" asked Montana.

"I don't know. Circulation is coming back and it's shooting hot needles into my arms and legs. Here, give me a hand."

Montana hoisted him to his feet. Carson's knees buckled and the younger man held him while he got his limbs moving. They started toward the door and then in the darkness Ben Carson's stumbling boot struck an empty pail.

Its rattle sounded like all the devils in hell banging a symphony in a trash pile.

"Out the back door," Montana hissed. "The creek bank's not too far away. If we can get that far it's something. I'll cover you from there if you can make it the rest of the way."

"I'll try," Carson replied through puffed lips.

INSIDE the big room, Buckner, Black Jack, Dutch Saunders, and Ro Rundert still sat in a semicircle around the now dead fireplace, talking.

Buckner, speaking in a low voice, continued what he had been saying.

"The cut goes as is and you can take it or not, Black Jack. I know you and Dutchie think you're pretty rugged gents, backed up by this bunch of snoring cutthroats here on the floor. But it was me that made all the plans for this deal and kept an eye on Ramson all the time. It was me that knew when he was at the ranch or in town. It was me that lined up his riders so that you could buy some of the stock they stole at prices that would shame an honest man. So don't get any ideas, now that we've got Ramson where we want him, that I'm still not the boss. I've been running things like I wanted them for a long time. And I'll keep right on doing so. I've been content to stay in the background and let you boys do the rough stuff. It made no difference to me that half of the men in this country think I kill half the quick-draw artists in this country before they could clear leather with their low-hung guns. Me, I'll stick to a sawed-off."

"I don't like this kind of talk," growled the Dutchman's voice, his piggy little eyes suddenly venomous.

"That goes for me too," cut in Rundert. "We did our share. Plenty. Shore you made some of the plans and, we let you run the show, but I don't like you taking all the credit for it."

The squawman seemed unperturbed. He continued to smoke his pipe and gazed into the fire.

"Of course you don't like it, Ro," he said quietly. "Vain men of your stripe generally don't. But what I say goes: I've been bossing this country this far and giving the orders, and now that we're closing in for the kill I just don't want any of you getting any ideas."

Black Jack too seemed calm about the matter. He gave his queer chuckle and looked at the squawman. "Like Ro here, ye think ye're a plumb bad boy when it comes to a showdown, but when it came last fall and ye had the chance to get Montana it didn't happen."

"I didn't know who he was until Carson packed him out," Buckner replied. "And if it had been anybody but Carson I'da got them both that night. I tried hard enough... trailed Ben a mile before he gave me the slip."

Back of the bar the squaw's drowsing eyes had suddenly opened. Her ears had caught a faint rattling sound the others hadn't heard. She straightened and a couple of short guttural words came from her lips. Buckner rose casually, stepping up to the bar where the sawed-off lay.

"Where ye goin' now?" demanded Black Jack.

"The squaw heard something out back," Buckner replied.

"Never see such a gent in all my life," chuckled Black Jack, a sneer in his voice. "Nervous like a cat all the time. Aflus prowlin' around with that bloomin' lead sprayer."

"It's one reason I'm still alive, I reckon," Buckner said and went out.

HELL'S HORSEMAN
BY WILLIAM HOPSON

Chapter 24

BUCKNER closed the door back of him and called out in a low voice: "Ring! Ring!"

No answer in the form of running feet, big and padded. Buckner's eyes went to the corral. He could tell by the attitude of the horses that it was pretty quiet out there; but the dog was usually always around and the squaw didn't imagine things. He didn't like the looks of the place. He knew that somewhere out there the gun fighter who had killed a number of Black Jack's men was playing his own game. What that game was Buckner didn't pretend to know, but one thing was certain. None of their lives would be safe until that man was dead.

The squawman called again to the absent dog. He paused as though in uncertainty, glanced at the shed where Ben Carson had been bound, and then moved toward the corral. He went not as a white man walks, but like an Indian, low, crouched over, shotgun cradled at his hip and keeping in the shadows. He reached the corner of the corral and then he saw the dog. He saw two other things too, almost simultaneously: the long feathered shaft sticking from its throat and the man who crouched below the bank not far away. A splashing sound flicked his attention elsewhere and he recognized Ben Carson's figure stumbling through knee-deep water to the opposite shore of the creek and the timber beyond.

Buckner looked down the barrel of the cocked Colt, his own gun, uncocked, lining Montana's middle—and he knew that if he tried to cock the sawed-off it would be his death warrant.

"I'm going to kill that damned squaw," Buckner said in a low voice. "I'll get her by her black hair and twist until her head comes off."

"I'm not interested in the squaw," Montana replied tonelessly.

Her father told me that bow and quiver of arrows were a good omen for us. Injun superstition, mebbe, but he said never to let it out of the house. And then she got drunk and gave it to Leota one day. I'll kill her, I tell you!" he repeated.

"I'm not interested," Montana repeated. "We've got this place surrounded."

Which was stretching things a bit, but then Buckner couldn't know. He asked a question.

"Where's Ramson?"

"Out there," jerking his head back, his eyes never leaving the uncocked sawed-off. "With a Winchester's sights lined on the back door."

Buckner let go a grim sound that might have been a chuckle. "Men live by guns in this country, Mister. That door and those walls are bullet-proof. I've got a piece of sheet steel bolted to it on the inside. Come again."

"The deal stands, Buckner. You've got the girls and we can't close in. We're out here and you can't get out alive—not one of you. It's your move."

"You forget the Dutchman," grinned the squawman, his eyes now the eyes of a rattler: opaque, unblinking. "The minute you open up he'll make for the bedroom with a knife. He was married... once, you know. It's your move."

MONTANA thought swiftly, eyeing that strangely calm man with the shotgun. He felt calm himself and yet he knew that that man five feet away was the calmer of the two; it was in Buckner's words, his bearing. He had the upper hand and he knew it.

Montana tried once more. "I was asleep not far away from the coach today when Rundert welcomed his cronies. I overheard the whole deal—ransom and all. I've talked to my—King Ramson. He can't pay what you're going to ask. He's been cleaned out. He's broke, through. He hasn't got a dime. So the money part of it is out. If you hold out for the Forrest girl's ranch it would only be a matter of time until we brought a United States marshal in here with plenty of men and that would mean a rope for every man of you."

"Well?" whispered Buckner. "Let the girls walk out. We'll pull out. After that it's any man's move."

"I'd have to talk it over with the others inside. And I might not come out again."

"Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Corbett, Randolph, were week-end callers of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kraft. Mrs. Mabel Tome Hills, California, is spending the month of August with Warren relatives and was present for the Corydon school reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kraft have returned from a visit in Buffalo. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Whyte and children, Warren, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Whyte. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tome, Fred Layton and Mrs. Mabel Hills were Saturday local visitors."

MR. AND MRS. J. STUART JOHNSON

—Siegfried Photo

A lovely midsummer wedding took place at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, August 2, in Bethel Lutheran church in Jamestown, when approximately 250 relatives and friends assembled to see Patricia Ann Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Bender, 121 Buffalo street, become the bride of Joseph Stuart Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clifford Johnson, 1000 Conewango avenue, Warren.

Pastor Lawrence F. Nordstrom performed the ceremony against a floral background of white glads, larkspur and pom poms, with ferns, laurel foliage and candelabra. Wedding music was by Charlotte Dahlbeck, organist, and Jackie Cusimano, soloist.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore imported white chantilly lace and net, with pinaflore bodice buttoned up the front to a small collar. Sleeves were long and glove-like, and a lace panel enhanced the full, hooped skirt, which lengthened into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported French illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses centered with butterfly orchids.

Attendants were the maid of honor, Diane Eden, in aqua; bridesmaids, Veola Taffe, Atlanta, Ga., and Kay Marie Bender, sister of the bride, wearing pink; the junior bridesmaid, Karen Louise Bender, another sister of the bride, in yellow. Their gowns were of net and lace, complemented with crownless net hats forming sweetheart peaks; and each carried a lace basket filled with sweetheart roses, daisies and ivy.

Completing the bridal party were the best man, Harold Martin, Warren; ushers, Ralph S. Bender, brother of the bride; Carlton Jones, Warren, and J. William Reed, Jamestown.

Mothers of the principals were gowned in lace. Mrs. Bender in periwinkle blue with pale pink accessories, Mrs. Johnson in pink with matching accessories, and each had a corsage of rubrum lilies and pink d'Amour roses. Mr. and Mrs. George Huggins, Cleveland Heights, O., were master and mistress of ceremonies for the reception which followed at the Moonbrook Country Club. A mantel arrangement featured white glads and Fujii mums, with glads, larkspur and pom poms in large floor baskets. White larkspur and roses, with rubrum lilies, centered the table, while smilax wreathed the tiered cake topped by a nosegay of sweetheart roses and sweet peas. Aides were Joanne Bender, cousin of the bride, Joline Turnell and Rachel Upton, wearing nosegays of white carnations and yellow sweetheart roses.

A guest list of approximately 150 included these out of town guests: Mr. and Mrs. Fay Martin, Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Seagren, Toledo, O.; Mr. and Mrs. C. Virgil Harner, Charleston, W. Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paine, Jr., Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thompson, Jr., Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John Griffiths, Baltimore, Md.; Carolyn Lodico, Forestville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. T. Ralph Unsworth, Atlanta, Ga.

For a motor trip through northern New York and Canada, the bride chose a powder blue suit and navy accessories. After August 10, the newlyweds will be at home to friends at 121 Buffalo street, Jamestown.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of North Fulton High School, Atlanta, Ga.; the University of Georgia, where she was a member of Alpha Chi Omega; the Jamestown Business College, and is employed at Jamestown Community College. Honoring her with pre-nuptial affairs were Mrs. F. Ray Kerr; Mrs. J. Clifford Johnson; Mrs. T. K. Larson; Diane Eden and Joline Turnell; Mrs. Clifford Bender and Mrs. George Bender; bridesmaids' luncheon July 26 at the Town Club. The senior Johnsons gave the rehearsal dinner.

Mr. Johnson attended Warren High School, Farmington Springs School and Jamestown Community College.

NIMBLE THIMBLES

Russell—The Nimble Thimble Club members held their regular meeting at the church, with eight girls and several mothers in attendance and Leader Geraldine Johnston directing the session. The girls worked on their skirts, which are to be modeled at the county round-up at Youngsville on August 27. The next regular session for club members will be Friday of this week.

NOTICE

The office of Dr. L. J. Borger will be located in the Columbia Theatre Building during August and September. 8-5-52

Booklet For School Children Contains Bank Information

State College—To help the general public, and particularly school children, learn more about the operations of their bank, Pennsylvania banks tomorrow will begin distribution of a textbook titled, "Your Bank."

The book, which presents an entirely new approach to the study of banking, was written by Dr. George L. Leffler, professor of finance at the Pennsylvania State College, and published by the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, a co-operation with the Bureau of Business Research at Penn State.

The book is divided into three sections on services, systems, and safety and describes every important bank service. It gives a concise picture of the dual banking system and outlines methods used by banks to safeguard the depositor's money. Written in non-technical language, the book gives the layman a clear insight into the complex business of banking.

Robert C. Forrey, of Harrisburg, director of publications for the Pennsylvania Bankers Association, explains that "Your Bank" was especially written for use in public, private, parochial, and business schools. It can be used in courses in economics, banking, commercial subjects, problems of democracy, and mathematics.

In a foreword to the book, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of the Pennsylvania State College, points out that a "knowledge of the basic services and operations of our banks is one of the earmarks of a well-informed person."

"The purpose of this book is to present, in concise and non-technical language, a description of very important services rendered by banks, an over-all picture of our banking system, and a summary of the methods used to safeguard the people's money. 'Your Bank' can be read with profit by every student in Pennsylvania."

Emotional Crowd Sees Shantz Become First 20-Game Winner

ANS SCREAM WITH ANXIETY AT EACH PLAY

Philadelphia (AP)—Mother nature threw rainstorm and the ston Red Sox tossed in eight rain-soaked batters. To top it off, mother couldn't control his best hit.

But none of these deterrents prevented Bobby Shantz from becoming the major league's 20-game winner of the 1952 season last night as the Philadelphia A's topped the Bostonians, 3-1.

The biggest A's crowd of the season, 35,673, watched, emotionally high-pitched and screaming every time Shantz threw a strike or got a man out.

"I couldn't throw my knuckler like I wanted it to go," he said idly and half-apologetically, "laxing all 139 pounds on a dressing room bench."

"So Joe catcher Astroth had a mix up my curve with a fast ball on occasions. Then we changed on several hitters and that proved to be the right medicine for them."

Shantz ran into a 71-minute delay in the bottom half of the first inning. Rain forced the delay and looked for a few minutes, like a game might be called off. But when the storm subsided the tarulins were removed and play resumed.

Then Bobby settled down to run a gamut of the Red Sox right and packed lineup. He farid well cept for Sammy White's blast to the left field stands for four ses in the fifth.

After that Hoot Evers lined a mer into the same sector in the gth. The other Boston run came a double by Dom DiMaggio in a sixth followed by a wild throw shortstop Eddie Joost on George ell's grounder.

WE BOBBY SHANTZ, above had a record crowd of 35,673 yelling his heads off in Philadelphia last night when he won his twentieth game of the current season as the A's topped Boston, 3-1.

Plan Selection Of Hot Stove League's All Stars for 1952

With the Hot Stove League reaching the climax of the 1952 campaign, and it has been a big one, the time has come to pick the All-Star teams for the post season playoffs.

The first of these to be announced is the Eastern Cadet All-Star lineup, selected by Roger Hendrickson and Angus Bailey, who will coach the team.

The 18-man team includes at least one player from five teams in the nine-team league from the eastern section. They are Chocott, Hammer, Hendrickson, Lindquist, Dahl and Samuelson from the J. A. Johnson team; Tannler, Shanshala, Hultman, Kittner and Gafner from Dans Chevrolet; Rasmussen and Cerra from Morrell's; DeFazio from the Spouts; and Bennett, Harrington, Mohrner and Berdine from the Warren News.

All the practice sessions for this team will be held at Lacy field and the players should watch the Times-Mirror sport page for announcement of dates. All players should also report to the sessions in full uniform.

Merchants Face Youngsville, Elks vs. Business School In Sunset League Games Tonight

Because inclement weather caused postponement of the two Sunset Baseball League make-up games scheduled last Monday, the same schedule will be run this evening instead of the games previously listed.

That means that the Youngsville Merchants (5-2) will meet the Warren Merchants (4-3), and Warren Business School (3-4) and the Elks will battle it out at the State Hospital diamond. Game time is 6.30.

The reason for the switch is to have Youngsville and the Warren Merchants get their game out of the way first, as a win for Youngsville over the Merchants would automatically give them the loop championship, having already won the first-half title.

However, should Warren win, both teams would be in a tie for first place and the other games might be the deciding factor if either should lose.

Herb just had a cast removed from his foot and leg, which was broken in three places in a fall from a scaffolding several weeks ago, and hopes to be up in a wheel chair soon.

Following this evening's escapade, we should have a little something to tell you about our friend Sir Walter Raleigh Kork Ran.

It sure was a grand surprise for us when we bumped into Jim Hengst last night. In our last letter the lieutenant, serving aboard the aircraft carrier, USS Saipan, told us he had just left Ireland and was spending some time in Cuba before his return to the states. Upon arrival he caught a plane and arrived here in the evening, expecting to be here until tomorrow.

Three Warren lassies, attired for the occasion, embarked from the north end of Conewango avenue, last night, on a hike which was to take them to North Warren by way of Hatch Run, etc. That they finally abandoned their plan is not due to the fact they stopped traffic on the avenue extension several times.

Dodgers, Giants In 16-Inning Thriller Lasting Five Hours

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even Bobby Shantz' 20th win for the Philadelphia A's takes a back seat today to the "morning after" gossip about the 15-inning thriller between the Dodgers and Giants.

Little Bobby picked a tough night to cop his 20th. It seemed everybody was gunning for a headline. Rogers Hornsby was making his bow as Cincinnati manager with a 4-0 win over Chicago. The New York Yankees were meeting their old mate, Spec Shea, for the first time since he was traded to Washington, and nipped him 3-2 in a game halted by rain after seven innings.

And then the Giants and Dodgers, favorite sparring partners for years, had to hook up in a five-hour struggle that lasted well into the wee hours. Don Mueller finally broke it up with an infield chopper that scored rookie Jim Rhodes at the way from second base for a 7-6 win.

Mueller's infield hit scoring Rhodes while pitcher Chris Van Cuyk threw late to first base, slashed the Dodgers' lead over the Giants to 5½ games in the opener of a "big" series. Incidentally, it was Mueller's first hit in his last 17 at bat.

With two out Rhodes simply kept on running and with manager Leo Durocher waving him on, scored standing up while Van Cuyk threw to first trying to get Mueller.

In beating Boston, 5-3, Shantz had to contend with both rain and Red Sox. A storm held up play for one hour and 11 minutes in the first. Home runs by Sam White and Hoot Evers gave Boston its only earned runs.

Cleveland dropped four full games behind the Yanks, splitting a twilight-night double header with Chicago. The Indians won the first 6-0 but lost the second 6-3.

Bob Cain hit the win circle for the first time since June 27 as St. Louis knocked off Detroit, 5-1.

Dei Rice's fly ball with the bases loaded in the 12th scored Solly Hemus for the St. Louis Cards' 4-3 nod over Pittsburgh.

A twilight-night double header between the Phillies and Boston Braves was rained out at Boston.

Y. Church Softball League Ends in Tie For Second Position

The curtain was drawn on the 1952 Y-Church Softball League slate last night, when Bethel EUB trounced the basement Grace Methodist Club, 9-2, at Beaty School Field. The win pulled Bethel, first-half titleholders, into a tie for second place this half with the Phalanx, each with five wins and four defeats.

First Methodist clinched the half-crown on Monday, July 28, and will now play off for the loop championship with Bethel, the dates to be announced later.

Last night's fray was a replay of the 11-inning tie game staged by the two teams on Friday evening.

A sixth run rally set off in the bottom of the eighth claimed a decisive victory for Bethel, with Ken Sorenson hurling 7-hit ball and slamming out two runs in addition. Erv Rader, giving up 12 hits, was the losing pitcher.

King was the heavy batter for Bethel with three fair ones in four trips, while Rader smacked two for Grace.

Duke of Lullwater Is Favorite Today

Goshen, N. Y. (AP)—The classic field in Hambletonian history is slated to line up today for the $87,637 trotting derby at Good Time Park and the railbirds are convinced Duke of Lullwater can grab the rich plum if he tends to business.

Sixteen horses will step out behind the mobile starting gate in the first heat, with the Georgia Duke from Walter T. Candler's Lullwater Farm at Decatur the early 3 to 1 favorite.

Duke of Lullwater, the 1951 juvenile trotting champion, must overcome a so-called Goshen jinx for he has lost only four races in his career—and all of them in this home of the Hambletonian. In fact, he's never won a race in Goshen.

Johnson to Fight Satterfield Tonight

Chicago (AP)—A couple of hard-punching light heavyweights—Harold Johnson and Bob Satterfield—meet tonight in the Chicago Stadium.

The bout is scheduled for ten rounds but, in the light of the past performances of the contestants, it may not last that long.

Johnson, a Philadelphia who hanks as the No. 2 challenger for the world light heavyweight championship, is a 3 to 1 favorite.

Satterfield, a Chicagoan who literally has had an up-and-down career in the ring, has what it takes to score an upset-knockout power.

The bout will be telecast nationally, starting at 9 p. m. EST.

Pirates Beaten By Cardinals, 4 to 3

Pittsburgh (AP)—Solly Hemus romped home on catcher Del Rice's long fly w/ht the bases loaded in the 12th inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 4-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

Joe Fresko, last of four Card hurlers, got credit for his seventh win against his six defeats. Buc Rookie Cal Hogue, who went the distance, lost his third game. He's won one.

Durocher Shows Daring Still Pays Off in Day of Lively Ball

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—There is no greater anomaly in baseball than the Giants playing the old-fashioned game.

The Polo Grounders get their full share of home runs in a park designed for them, but Leo Durocher long since demonstrated that daring tactics still pay off in the day of the lively ball.

A lot of people prefer swift and skillful execution to a home run. Bobby Thomson has stolen home three times this season. Monte Irvin stole home five times last season without a miss, and repeated the astonishing performance in the first inning of the first game of the World Series to beat Albie Reynolds and the Yankees.

When he isn't handicapped by being behind, as he was in the case of the recent second-inning double steal against the Cubs, Durocher keeps the other side, and especially its catcher, under constant pressure. The Giants grab the ball, hit and run to the opposite field, steal signs, work the squeeze.

Because they hit and run to a greater extent, the Giants hit into fewer double plays than any other outfit in the wheel. They miss Eddie Stanky in this regard, but Dark, Lockman and Mueller are particularly adept at getting a piece of the ball.

THE catcher suspecting the hit and run is likely to call for a pitch-out only to see nothing happen. When he is looking for the man on first to run he might hesitate to call for a curve.

Whenever Billy Herman was on second base for the Durocher-managed and winning Brooklyn club of 1941, he'd give the hitter every sign. Dixie Walker would wait for a curve and swat the ball up against the fence.

Writers who covered the Dodgers then recall a game in St. Louis that probably ended the pennant. Morton Cooper had yielded only three hits in a scoreless game. Herman doubled, slipped Walker the sign, and Dixie drove him home with a double to left which handed the Superbas a big one, 1-0. They beat the Cardinals for the pennant by just two games.

With fellows who could manipulate the ball—Herman, Reese, Walker and himself as a pinch-hitter—Durocher's Dodgers worked the squeeze play nine straight times.

Leo Durocher wisely has not permitted inside baseball to be knocked out of the park with the long ball.

Left-Handed Golf Players In Tourney

Shawnee-on-Deleware, Pa. (AP)—Defending champion Ross Collins, Monticello, Ark., moves into the quarter finals of the national left handed golfers association today against Nelson Cullenward, of San Francisco.

Collins and Bill Guymes, Knoxville, Tenn., co-medalist, gained the quarter finals with double victories on the Shawnee country club course.

Also moving into the quarter finals was John Minco, Cleveland who beat Henry Heinlein, Indiana, Pa. 3 and 1 in one of his matches yesterday.

Midget Tournament Attracts 11 Teams

York, Pa. (AP)—Eleven teams from three states will compete here Friday through Sunday in the third annual Mason-Wixon Invitational midget baseball tournament.

Nearly 175 boys between the ages of 8 and 12 years will be battling for the team championship as well as individual trophies sponsored by Ken Raffensberger of the Cincinnati Reds and Jack Mercer of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Falcons Are Again Beaten by Hornell

By The Associated Press

The Hornell Dodgers fought their way back into a tie for second place last night by knocking over the leading Jamestown Falcons 7-5 while Hamilton was absorbing a double shellacking from Olean, 10-6 and 3-2.

The Bradford Phils' Bill Glendinning had a no-hitter going into the 6th when the Corning A's broke out with three runs on three singles, a walk and an error to win 3-1.

Batavia swept a double-header from Wellsville, 8-6, 4-3.

Ten New Teachers Named To Borough School Faculties As Opening Date Approaches

When Warren Borough Schools open on Wednesday, September 3, one month from today, there will be ten new faces appearing on the faculty and administration.

At Warren High School, where four members have been added to the staff, there will be a new figure in the field of sports, Fred Bell. Bell has signed a contract as new head football coach and as a social studies teacher. A graduate of Kittanning High School, he has received his Bachelor of Science degree from Pennsylvania State College and is credited with work towards his Master's there. During his schooling at Penn State Bell participated in three varsity sports: basketball, football and baseball, and comes to Warren after coaching at Bellefonte High School from 1948 to 1952.

Not unknown but to be officially presented as a member of the faculty is Miss Martha Sable, who served here as a student teacher last semester. Miss Sable graduated from Slippery Rock State Teachers' College last June, at which school she was president of the Women's Athletic Association and a member of the Honorary Physical Education Fraternity. At present she is waterfront director at Camp Winnicut, south of Pittsburgh. She will be the new physical education teacher at the high school.

Miss Doris Smith, a June 1952, graduate from Clarion State Teachers', will come to Warren in September as the new librarian. At school Miss Smith, who resides in East Brady, was active in the WAA, a member of the yearbook staff, belonged to the International Relations Club and was a member of the Future Teachers of America.

A Youngsville man, Norge Luvison, will be teaching driver training in the high school come fall. A four-year football letterman in college, Luvison received his Bachelor of Science Degree at Clarion and Master of Education Degree at Western Reserve University, following three years' service in the Navy. He has taught previously at Sugar Grove High School.

Three male instructors will be added to the faculty, Thomas Barrett, Samuel Haggerty and A. J. McDonnell. While Barrett is a 1950 graduate from Clarion State Teachers' College with a Bachelor of Science Degree in education, the other gentlemen received their degrees from Pennsylvania State College in June of this year.

Barrett comes from Coalport Senior High, where he taught for two years, was assistant coach, student government and class advisor. He attended college upon discharge from the Army and at school was president of the student council, co-editor of the college year-book, and was listed in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Also a former Army man, Haggerty attended DuBois Business College before going to Penn State, where he was a member of the Town Council, the Little Theatre Group and Delta Mu Sigma Honorary Fraternity. McDonnell, with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English, was in Student Council work at State, a member of the Press and Newman clubs, and in "Who's in the News at Penn State."

To East Street School will come

Search Continues Without Success For Missing Woman

For the sixth consecutive day a group of men, consisting mostly of officials experienced in roaming the woods, including game wardens, fish wardens, forestry men and others are engaged in an organized search of the territory in the vicinity of Quaker Road, Elk township, near Scandia, seeking clues as to the fate of Mrs. Ethel Wells, 50, wife of F. Gordon Wells, Freusburg drug salesman, who has been missing since last Wednesday.

Headed by Sheriff L. E. Linder, the posse which includes volunteers from the area familiar with the section, along with a dozen county and state officials, has waged a systematic hunt without success for the woman or clues to give some indication as to her fate.

Every tip received has been thoroughly investigated, including one that the woman had been seen in Jamestown over the weekend. Another being sighted today was that she had been seen in a city in New Jersey since her disappearance.

The woman has been missing from the Wells summer home in Elk township since last Wednesday. The search has been spurred by information that Mrs. Wells had written in a letter that she was despondent. Two vials of strychnine are missing from the cottage, according to the husband.

The search yesterday is reported to have covered a 300-yard area in a mile strip at a time. The same organized hunt was to be instituted today.

In the meantime officials in charge of the investigation have found no trace of a Displaced person, Waseley Gussey, who arrived in this country last fall through the World Council of Churches and was placed with the Wells family through the Church World Service of New York City. He disappeared Tuesday of last week, after it was alleged, the Wells had argued over his actions in the home.

Overdue Postage At Warren Post Office Is Machine-checked

The Warren post office, one of the busiest in the entire country, has been designated by the postal department in Washington as one of two or three offices to try an experiment.

Added to the postage meter in the local office has been a die which prints postage due strip stamps, obviating the necessity of using small stamps with hand cancelling.

Postmaster B. S. Knabenshue explained that the postage due business in Warren is heavier than most offices, and results in the carrying of a large inventory of the postage due stamps, with the consequent work of sorting, handling and cancelling, even the loss of an occasional $5 or $10 stamp for which post office personnel must pay.

The new system will not only result in a considerable saving of time, but will allow a sharp reduction in the stamp inventory formerly carried, and the consequent difficulties arising from such a large inventory.

Mr. Knabenshue said that so far as is known, the only other post offices experimenting with the new system are those in Chicago, Ill. The new set-up became effective here on August 1.

School Jointure Is Rejected by Spring Creek Directors

Directors of the Spring Creek school district made it official Monday night in deciding that district won't be a part of the Corry Area Jointure on the elementary level.

All five directors voted against the plan, largely on the premise that it holds no financial advantages for Spring Creek as it does for the other five districts which have put the jointure on a 100 per cent basis.

The action means Spring Creek will continue to be a part of the jointure for grades 7-12 but students in grades 1-6 will be under the direct control of the Spring Creek board and will in no way be affected by the jointure.

It was reported that the action was taken on the theory that the Spring Creek district would actually encounter a loss of some $4,500 yearly by making the jointure 100 per cent.

Directors voting against the move were President William Wodarsky, Arch Wynn, Kenneth Sickler, Homer Manley and Mrs. Cecil Burleigh.

In other action at the meeting contracts for transportation for the coming year were let.

TO INVEST CONSERVATIVELY . . .

For nearly 20 years investors have been forced to assume the risk that prolonged inflation would greatly reduce the buying power of their savings. Accompanying this danger of long-term depreciation of the dollar has been a greatly increased risk of deflationary set-backs and accompanying losses on investments made at high prices. Therefore, a clear understanding of sound investment planning is more important than ever. Nearly everyone who saves has at least two objectives-to have available a reserve for emergencies during his productive years and to provide needed income during his late years of retirement. Nevertheless, many individuals do not seem to have a clearly defined investment program suitable to their special circumstances. Investments are frequently made on the casual advice of friends and on "tip" of dubious origin. Such haphazard procedure too often leads to the dissipation of hard-earned surplus earnings.

Attempting to outguess the stock market in order to profit from the continuing fluctuations in security values may be dangerous and costly. Why not avail yourself of expert management provided by the leading investment trust funds where you can buy values and earning power and at the same time spread your investment over many of America's largest companies and most important industries?
